QSpeak Theatre, a program of 1n10, is the valley's only theatre program for LGBTQ youth and their cool straight allies ages 14-22.

When: Saturdays August 25- November 17, 1-4pm

Where: TBD, Contact Beck!

What we do:

You will learn new skills and build upon existing skills in acting, playwriting, directing, designing, improv, movement, making soundtracks and more!

No experience is necessary and all of the workshops are FREE!! AND...we always have snacks and water for you!

WHY: Oh my gosh, 'cuz it's totally fun and amazing to use your own true stories and experiences to create great art and hopefully engage people in helping to create change in our communities. We have the chance to share our stories and lives in order to help shape the world we live in! Why not?!?!

Commitment: You do NOT have to attend EVERY Saturday during these fall workshops. They are just fun and we'll use the work to create an actual script that will be performed for the public later in the spring. If you want to perform later – GREAT! If you do not want to perform later – GREAT! It's totally up to you. We only ask that you let us know if you want to come to a workshop (so we have materials for you) and when you are with us we ask that you come with a positive attitude and leave the drama at the door.
